INTRODUCTION

Coffee shop is not only about selling coffee, but a place where one can relax and enjoy their breakfast.

Today we will be looking at different types of products sold at our stores and reviewing their performances to see if they are worthy of being in our coffee shop.

KEY DETERMINANTS OF THEIR PERFORMANCE:

1.Total Revenue

Total revenue will help us analyze which products and stores help us make profit or loss. That way we can determine which stores and products keep us in business

2.Number of stores per location

Count of stores will help us know if we our stores are reachable worldwide and whether or not if we should increase or decrease the shops

3. Quantity of products sold

This will enlighten us to know how many products are sold, and if we shoukd continue to order more or less. It akso helps identify which products are no longer useful for our business,

4. Best selling product types or details

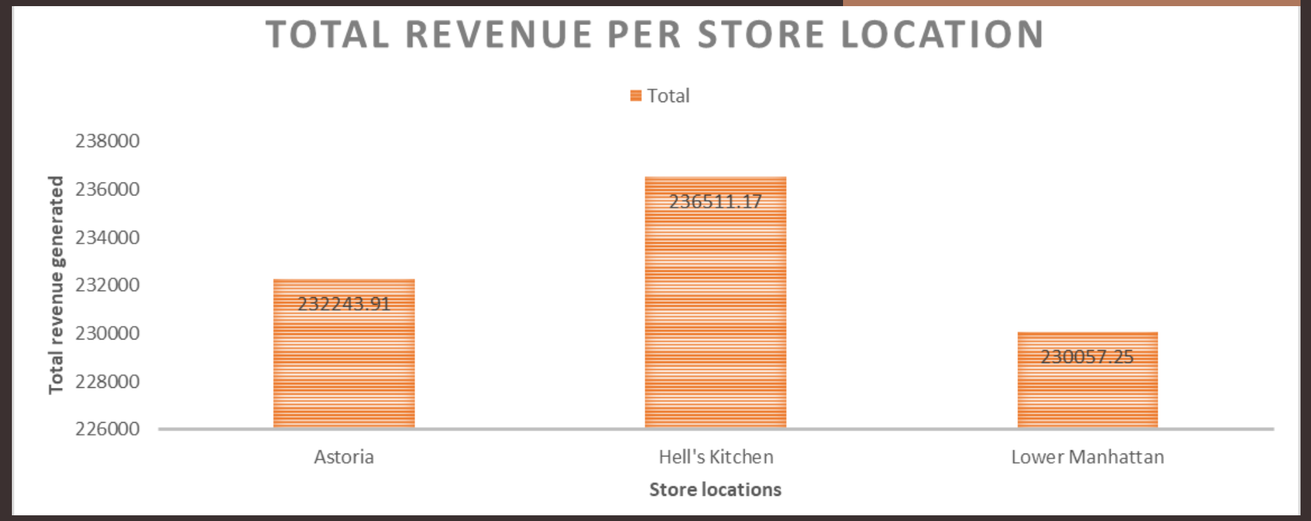
Help us keep in touch with our customers, so that we can ensure that they have their favourite products in stock at all times.

NUMBER OF STORES PER LOCATION

The graphs show us the number of stores per location, giving us insights of where we should go when we want to expand our business.

Astria have the least shops, so it would be the first location to consider so that our products can reach many other customers

Borcelle

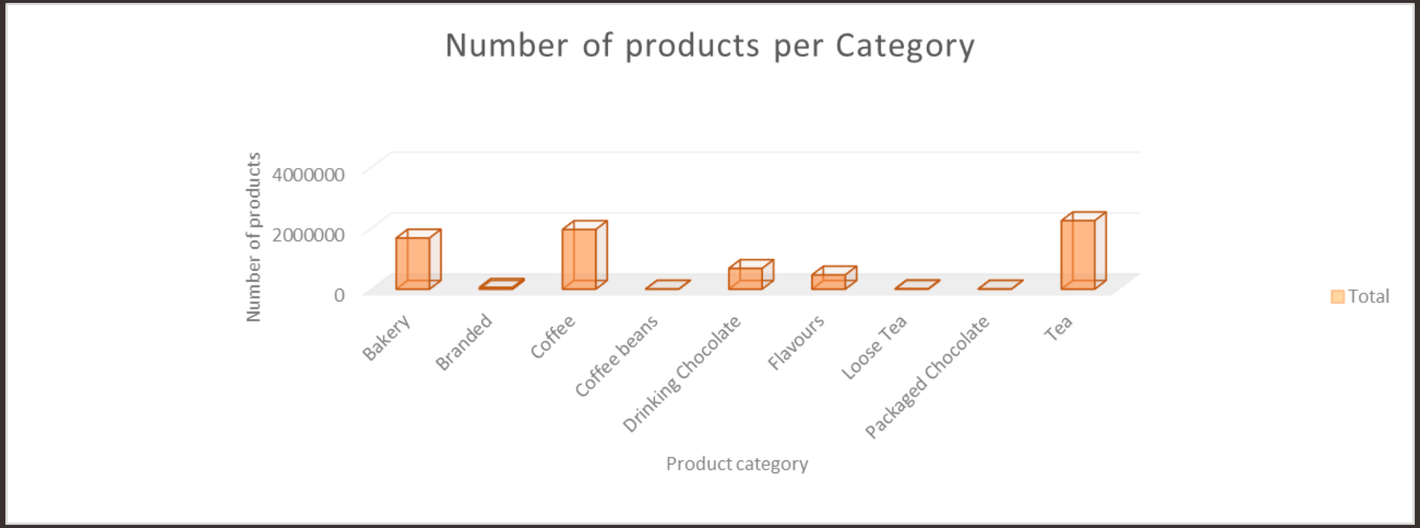


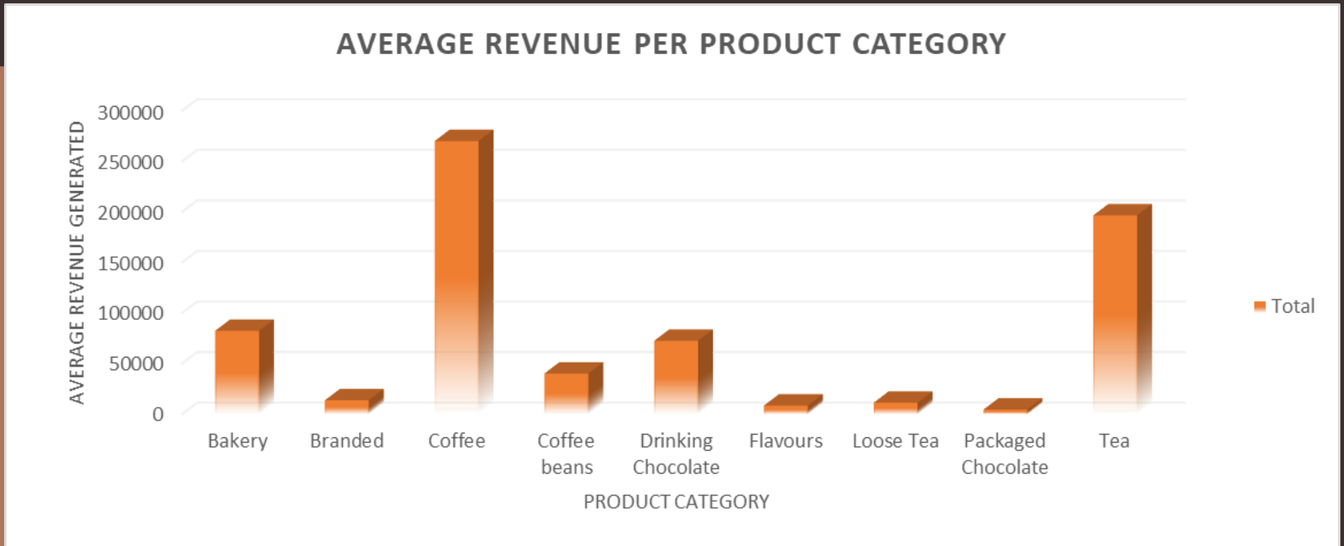
TOTAL REVENUE PER STORE LOCATION

Our data shores that out of the 3 store locations we have, the coffee shops we have in Hell's Kitchen generates more income than the others.

Lower Manhattan is the least performing even though it has more stores than Astria, this is the area in which we need to improve

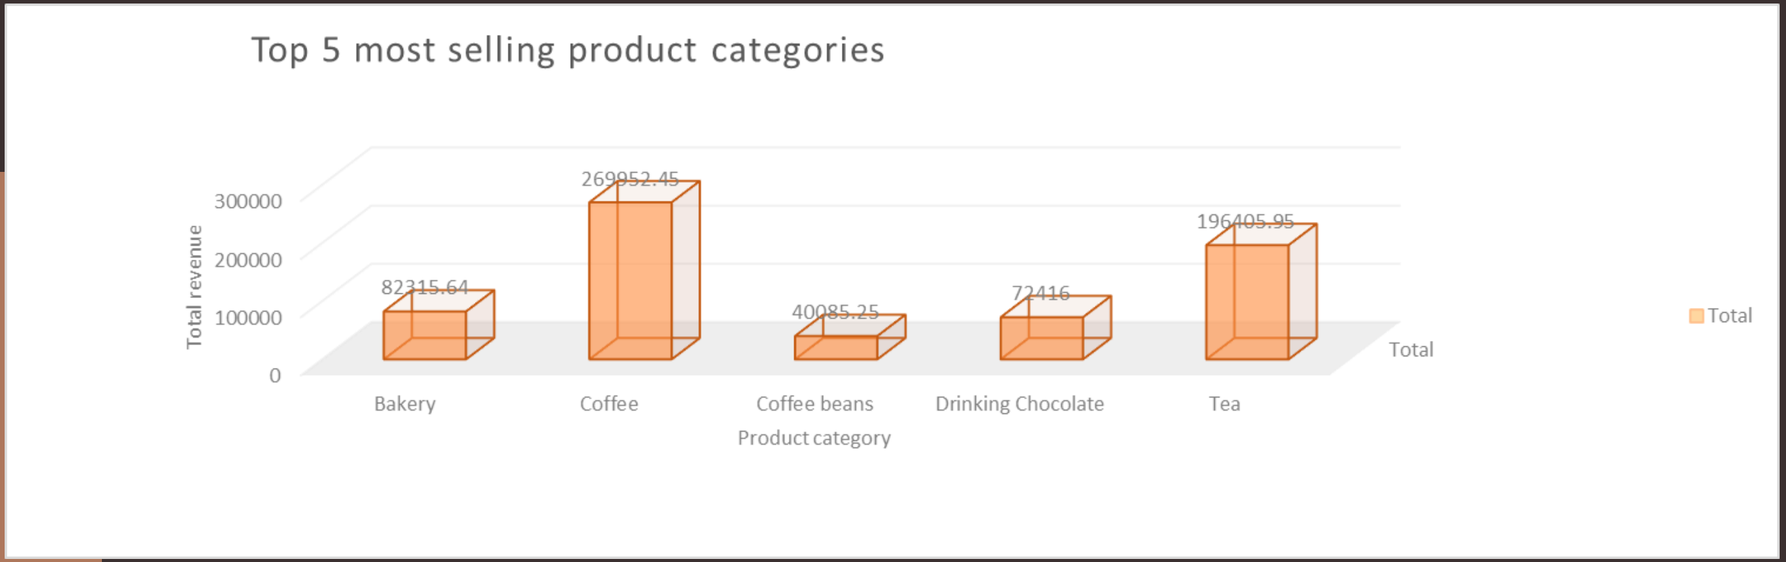
QUANTITY OF PRODUCTS SOLD





These graphs shows the number products per category at our stores. and the average revenue they generate. We can see that Coffee is our signature category, with the average revenue corresponding well. We should consider increasing stock in other categories at the average revenues goes hand in hand with these categories.

TOP SELLING PRODUCTS



According to this graph, these products are our best-selling product categories out of the 9 that we have. As a coffee shop it is a good thing that Coffee is the most leading, though we need to pay attention to other categories.

RECOMMENDATIONS !!

I would recommend that we promote other product categories so that we can have balance in business.

We could also run the rush hour specials in stores that are struggling, so we can attract more customers.

CONCLUSION

After analyzing our business using different approaches, we can agree that our business is doing well though there is always room for improvement.
